

Media bush fire safety training authorisation form

The NSW RFS encourages media personnel to attend NSW RFS controlled incidents. However, it is a requirement that media personnel wishing to attend a bush or grass fire are appropriately trained in safe working practices around bush fires and are wearing appropriate Personal Protective Clothing.

Anyone wishing to undertake media bush fire safety training must have a professional interest in reporting on bush fires for a legitimate media organisation.

Please complete the form below and bring it to your training session.

Freelancers must ask a commissioning editor (or similar) to complete the form below, or provide evidence of recent commissions to the NSW RFS media unit.
