A Total Fire Ban has been declared for the Southern Riverina in NSW for Friday 4 January 2013 due to forecast hot and windy conditions.

The Total Fire Ban will commence at midnight tonight and remain in place until midnight Friday 4 January 2013.

The Total Fire Ban in the Southern Riverina covers the following Councils:

- Berrigan
- Conargo
- Corowa
- Deniliquin
- Jerilderie
- Murray
- Urana
- Wakool

The Bureau of Meteorology has advised that Southern Riverina will have a 'Very High' Fire Danger Rating.

If you are in an area of 'Very High' fire danger the NSW Rural Fire Service advises that:

- Under these conditions fires can be difficult to control and present a threat to properties.
- Embers may be blown around homes causing other fires to occur up to 2km ahead of the main fire.
- Well prepared homes that are actively defended can offer safety during a fire.

People should report any unattended fires to Triple Zero.

On a day of Total Fire Ban, there is a ban on any fires out in the open.

A gas or electric barbeque is allowed, but only if:

- It is on a residential property within 20 metres of the house or dwelling
- It is in a picnic area and approved by Council, National Parks or State Forest
- It is under the direct control of a responsible adult
- The ground around the barbecue is cleared for 2 metres of all material that can burn
- You have an immediate and continuous supply of water available.
